

Hi kids!
Today I'm thinking about my best friend, Darvy, the earth dragonfly.
He suddenly died one day
while we were playing together.
I thought I'd share these thoughts with you.

I wonder what other adventures we could have had together.

I try to remember that he is happy in dragonfly heaven.

I understand why he died, though I don't like it.

I want to always remember how he made me laugh.

I learned a lot about myself, after he died.

I am a mystical, magical dragonfly, who misses my best friend so much!
