

Hi Kids! When someone you love has died, there are changes in your life. List some of those changes below.

---

---

---

Now list some things that haven't changed since the death of your special someone.

---

---

---

Can you share your lists with someone you trust? I know you'll feel better.

The Love inside your heart is with you forever. This love was present before the death of your loved one, and is present now. It's your greatest strength!